Nigel Wilson to step down as Chief Financial Officer of UBM

United Business Media Limited today announces that Nigel Wilson has tendered his resignation as Chief Financial Officer & Deputy Chief Executive and as a member of UBM's Board following his decision to join Legal and General Group Plc. To ensure an orderly transition to his successor, Nigel will continue as UBM's Chief Financial Officer until he takes up his new post in September. However Nigel will step down as a member of the Board with immediate effect. UBM will conduct a search for Nigel's successor over the course of the summer.

David Levin, Chief Executive Officer of United Business Media said:

"It has been a great personal pleasure to work closely with Nigel over the past four years. He has played a very significant role in helping to shape the transformation of UBM while the company has continued to deliver a strong financial performance for shareholders. The strong culture of rational analysis and financial discipline embedded in UBM's central and divisional management teams will continue as we take the business forward."

John Botts, Chairman of United Business Media said:

"In Nigel's seven years with UBM he has consistently contributed at the highest level to the transformation of the company. He leaves us with our warm thanks for a job very well done and best wishes for his continued success at Legal & General."
